

G's WAR

Today is May 28, 2012, Memorial Day in the United States of America.

It is America's day to stop and thank those American warriors that fought for a better American future. As this author lives in America and respects this day of honor and with readership being of many nations this country once fought it is sometimes difficult to pen a writing that addresses the readers of the world. Okay, I did not lie but I also did not tell the truth. This author has an honored respect and belief for God and with that a gift of fat finger typing where the fingers follow the thoughts of God. Each one has the gift, let belief guide and follow God's path.

All wars except one could potentially not have occurred or can be avoided if the pen was/is precisely applied and the reader precisely understood/understands, here is where diplomacy's writing failed/will fail, and war became/becomes inevitable. Many blame the nations of the war by their titles as a nation but in reality it was not that of the governments but that of a few individuals within the government, that in most if not all was the cause.

The New York Times on May 27, 2012 published an article titled "Public Pensions Faulted for Bets on Rosy Returns" penned by Mary Williams Walsh and Danny Hakim¹ which states a leader of California Public Employees' Retirement System (Calpers) was aware that reliance upon unrealistic inflated profit returns could potentially subject California Counties to bankruptcy. Per the article, Calpers trustee's failed to heed the warning. While on the subject of collateral value, one must consider that Greece's collateral value securing its loan from the European Central Bank under the current conditions reflects that Greece's current collateral may have a value of less worth than at the time of issue. One must also consider Spain's and Portugal's value of collateral along with the many other nations whose faith is backing the collateral for the loan the United States Federal Bank made to the European Central Bank. Whether countries exit or fail the Euro or austerity is implemented that is not achievable, the collateral backing the US Fed Reserves loan may have been reduced in value. Why has this not been publically reported?

¹ <http://www.nytimes.com/2012/05/28/nyregion/fragile-calculus-in-plans-to-fix-pension-systems.html>

Why have not the issues been reported in the news as a whole? Very simple, to obtain the knowledge in one area to allow one to advance to a level of living in security requires dedication to that area of knowledge severely restricts one from being learned in many areas. Was it by design? In this author's opinion, partially by trial and error and adjusting in accordance with the principles of the Banks Manifesto which follows the principles of Sun Tzu's "Art of War".

For a military to execute an action, the military would need to have confirmation that such action is warranted before dedicating resources to such action. Many of those of media run to those analyst and economists that are specialized in the respected field and fail to realize that the so-called expert is only commenting on a portion of the facts one is knowledgeable of and the secondary comments as unverified as they are considered for the media confirmation of fact. Error, does not compute. Media has another fault; normally media reports news as that of what has happened, but in this latest war of ~~Good~~ God against ~~Evil~~ Satan, there are those within the media that appear to be attempting to deceive one from knowing the truth.

In short, it is not the bricks that are bad but of that mortar that binds them. Forget not, God was the architect of all. And we, as engineered machines are/(should be) guided by the architect.

This author not only expresses his thanks to the Soldiers of the United States but to that of all Soldiers that have fought with God.

~~Gold or God~~ Satan or God

The greatest gift God gave: choice.

So Mot It Be

Okiee, which war was not avoidable, Satan versus God.