

Let the Children Play

To my Brother's and Sister's in the U.S. and all over the Globe, Peace is with you.

I witness across the globe via the media, we are growing weary of our present way of life. We have lost our sense of direction, yet know something is not right in this World. It is kept from us for a reason.

I see my brother's and sister's losing trust and faith with those whom they entrusted with their freedom, prosperity, that now realize they appear to be misled. We were warned. It is written. We were warned a long time ago about this. Yet, we chose not to pay attention. We must come to understand how to put away our petty worldly emotions and be who we were created to be.

Here is how; Remember when you were a child? Do you remember how much fun you had with the other children ("neighbors") you were around? Whether we realized it or not, we loved each other, we played with each other, we shared our possessions with each other, and we did kind things for each other. Of course we had other children who might have been mean to us. Whether anyone ever taught you about the "characteristics" of those mean children, we were told to stay away from them.

Then we grew up into the stages of adulthood. We learned to distrust each other, to take advantage of each other, to put the other down in spirits, to mislead each other by blinding ourselves from the true laws. Hence today we feel the way we do.

We grow up from a child, yet we grow old to become the child again.

I was told I must become a child again to understand about the Kingdom. I knew not what it meant, yet I believed. This is what we must do. Each and every one of us upon this globe called Earth. Believe in each other rather than discourage, hinder, and kill. Kill is not just physically, it is mentally also. This is what we've done; we've killed each others true spirit for the sake of lusts, desires, and greed.

Let the Children Play

We stopped having our “child’s” mentality we had when we were young. We long for it, yet never look for it because we are caught up in the moment of our present times. We forgot whom to Trust, we trusted the wrong one(s). We were led to pit ourselves against each other. We’ve learned to dislike each other for one reason or the other. I say to you, rid yourselves of the old way of thinking. Open your eyes. Open your Mind. Let the blind see, the deaf hear.

We must come together to solve this enormous problem(s) all over the globe as we were given this planet to care for it. How are we caring for this planet when we can’t care for each other?

Question? If you were sinking in quicksand and your enemy stuck out his/her hand to pull you out, would you not take his/her hand? Or would you stick to your petty grievance and sink, gone forever, never to be known again? Those with ears hear, with eyes see.

Might we begin with asking ourselves, just exactly why we do not like each other? If we are Truthful we will realize our disagreements are Truly petty and of the world.

You and I are alike. We are His children. We may have a different belief, different color of skin, different language or any other difference, but we are still the same.

We were created, both male and female. There is no difference, we were created. You are my brother’s and sister’s even should you disagree. I love you.

For me to love you, I first had to love myself. This was difficult as the worldly ways of many years, clouded my understanding of why I am here on this Earth. I look around and witness how this misguidance from my youth is no different than that of others around me. Yet we discuss this very little and blame a lot. I ask that you “let the children play”. Let us all come together in this time of tribulations and create the Grand promise of our salvation from the servitude we are not fully aware of.

Let the Children Play

This is what I say to you brother's and sister's. It is time. We cannot continue to separate ourselves from each other with petty differences of this world or we will continue to bear false witness upon each other, of the things we know not, nor witnessed.

We must gather our strength within each other to overcome. We have been deceived just as it is written. I am speaking of the Whole World, not just part of it or just one community of people, it is everyone of us.

We must overcome the Evil of this world to bring the world back to the Law, not the greed of this world. Do not try to receive the Light in vain. For it wil not happen.

I ask that you take no pleasure in the world you were brought up in. Take pleasure in helping each other without the expectation of gratitude. Invite the poor to your feasts. Expect nothing in return. Do not forsake your brother's and sister's where ever we may be, just look to help each other get through this time.

Money does not matter. Love for one another is what matters. Money may buy you many things, but money will not buy happiness. Happiness comes from the Heart, not the wallet. Understand what I say.

Peace be with you,

AlvieC
